Subject: Early College High School Message Board

In order to facilitate information sharing among colleges and between the system office and colleges regarding Early College High Schools, a message board has been established at Yahoo! Groups.

This message board will allow members of any NC Community College and affiliated agency to engage in discussions about Early College High School programs. You are encouraged to share ideas and/or seek assistance with problems in instruction, student support, and related areas. The NC Community College System Office will moderate postings for this discussion group.

To access the message board, go to http://groups.yahoo.com/group/ncccs_earlycollegehighschools

Then click the "Join This Group" button. If you already have a Yahoo ID, you may use it to join. If you do not have a Yahoo ID, then choose the "Sign Up" link and complete the one page of information required to establish an account. In order to facilitate dialogue among your faculty and staff on Early College High Schools, I encourage you to disseminate this memo to all interested employees.
