HUM 220 Human Values and Meaning

Current Course Information:

HUM 220	Human Values and Meaning	3	0	3
Prerequisites:	ENG 111
Corequisites:	None

This course presents some major dimensions of human experience as reflected in art, music, literature, philosophy, and history. Topics include the search for identity, the quest for knowledge, the need for love, the individual and society, and the meaning of life. Upon completion, students should be able to recognize interdisciplinary connections and distinguish between open and closed questions and between narrative and scientific models of understanding. This course has been approved to satisfy the Comprehensive Articulation Agreement general education core requirement in humanities/fine arts.

Proposed Prerequisite: ENG 110 or ENG 111

Rationale of Requesting College: “When ENG 110 was developed for vocational and technical programs, it was not added to the composition pre-requisites for the humanities classes typically taken by students in the vocational and technical programs. The change is necessary to remove unnecessary limits on humanities options for students in these programs. ENG 110 meets the prerequisite needs for HUM 220.”
