Calendar Waiver for Piedmont Community College

Piedmont Community College (PCC) is requesting to extend the 2010-2011 Piedmont Community College Academic Calendar from Monday, August 9, 2010 to Thursday, May 19, 2011 based on the following information. The schedules of several of the correction education programs at Roxboro Satellite Training Center are built to use the majority of the dates available during the Fall and Spring Semesters for class meetings, including the days set aside for student breaks in the College schedule. The schedule does not have the flexibility to adjust for more than a few days lost due to inclement weather. Additionally, there is usually a day or so lost each year due to “lockdown” issues.

Pursuant to Numbered Memo CC01-065 (attached), Piedmont Community College is requesting permission to extend the 2010-2011 Academic Calendar from Monday, August 9, 2010 to Thursday, May 19, 2011 to allow for completion of Fall and Spring Semester classes.
