Curriculum Program Title Historic Preservation Technology Code A35110
Concentration (not applicable)

Curriculum Description

The Historic Preservation Technology curriculum provides courses related to the documentation and preservation of cultural and historic sites. The program emphasizes technical training in either archaeological field and laboratory methods or historic preservation management.

Specific skills will be developed in archaeological methods, archival research, drafting, conservation techniques, field data collection, photographic documentation, and the application of preservation law.

The program will qualify students to work as technicians assisting either professional archaeologists or historic preservationists.

*Curriculum Requirements

[for associate degree, diploma, and certificate programs in accordance with 23 NCAC 02E.0204 (3)]

- I. General Education. Degree programs must contain a minimum of 15 semester hours including at least one course from each of the following areas: humanities/fine arts, social/behavioral sciences, and natural sciences/mathematics. Degree programs must contain a minimum of 6 semester hours of communications. Diploma programs must contain a minimum of 6 semester hours of general education; 3 semester hours must be in communications. General education is optional in certificate programs.
- II. Major Hours. AAS, diploma, and certificate programs must include courses which offer specific job knowledge and skills. Work experience, including cooperative education, practicums, and internships, may be included in associate in applied science degrees up to a maximum of 8 semester hours of credit; in diploma programs up to a maximum of 4 semester hours of credit; and in certificate programs up to a maximum of 2 semester hours of credit. (See second page for additional information.)
- III. Other Required Hours. A college may include courses to meet graduation or local employer requirements in a certificate, diploma, or associate in applied science program. These curriculum courses shall be selected from the Combined Course Library and must be approved by the System Office prior to implementation. Restricted, unique, or free elective courses may not be included as other required hours.
