

Announcing the NEW NC Community College Advising Association (N3C2A), an organization for faculty and staff advisors

Learn about best practices & resources

Share your ideas & insights

Collaborate & network with peers

Help shape the future of advising in NC

Who can join? Community college advisors (faculty and staff), others whose work includes advising and student support (coaches, navigators, and counselors), and university transfer advisors are invited to join.

What is the cost to join? Membership in the N3C2A is free.

How do I join? To join or be added to our mailing list, send an email to Membership Officer, Marcia Miller at marcia.miller@rccc.edu

Can I attend the Unconference on February 16, 2018? Regrettably, Unconference registration closed on January 24 when we reached capacity. However, we appreciate your interest in the N3C2A and in attending this inaugural event that has generated great interest across our state. While we regret that you will be unable to join us for the Unconference, rest assured that the N3C2A will be organizing other events and projects to help shape the future of advising at our 58 community colleges. Thank you for your interest in promoting promising advising practices across our system. We hope to see you at a future event.

Who are the N3C2A organizers and leaders? Your N3C2A Executive Board Members 2018-2020 are:

Scott Byington, Central Carolina CC, Chairperson

Reese Linnell, Stanly CC, Vice-Chairperson

Christine Nicodemus, Pitt CC, Secretary

Jenn Selby, Rowan-Cabarrus CC, Policy Liaison

Timothy Maddox, Lenoir CC, Professional Development Officer

Marcia Miller, Rowan-Cabarrus CC, Membership Officer

Kathy Rusch, Wake Tech, Board Member

We look forward to learning and working with you to improve advising for our students.

