

Title II Career READY Directors' Retreat

The North Carolina Community College System College and Career Readiness Unit will host a Directors' Retreat on May 2-3, 2018. The retreat will be held from 10 am until 4 pm each day. The purpose of the retreat is to focus on expanding the Career READY project. As you aware, many CCR departments are exploring the option of implementing a Transition Center on their campuses. To encourage inclusiveness of CCR students, it is important to develop a model that helps students transition into both postsecondary education and employment.

The Directors' Retreat will allow time for us to develop methodologies, plans, and other strategies for expanding the Career READY project. The meeting will focus on the National Repository of Online Courses (NROC) mathematics and English courses. During this meeting, we will develop a plan to ensure that CCR students receive comprehensive services on campus.

The retreat will be held at the North Carolina Community College System Office. More details about the meeting will be furnished soon by Arbony Cooper.

The following colleges are participating in the retreat:

- Pitt Community College
- Lenoir Community College
