PROGRAM RECORDS RETENTION AND DISPOSITION SCHEDULE

The Program Records Retention and Disposition Schedule and retention periods governing the records series listed herein are hereby approved. In accordance with the provisions of Chapters 121 and 132 of the General Statutes of North Carolina, it is agreed that the records of the

COLLEGES IN THE NORTH CAROLINA COMMUNITY COLLEGE SYSTEM

do not and will not have further official use or value for administrative, research, or reference purposes after the respective retention periods specified herein. The Department of Natural and Cultural Resources consents to the destruction or other disposition of these records in accordance with the retention and disposition instructions specified in this schedule. The colleges agree to comply with 07 NCAC 04M .0510 when deciding on a method of destruction. Electronic records will be destroyed so that the data and metadata are overwritten, deleted, or unlinked in such a way that the records may not be practicably reconstructed. Confidential records will be destroyed in such a manner that the records cannot be practicably read or reconstructed. However, records subject to audit or those legally required for ongoing official proceedings must be retained until released from such audits or official proceedings, notwithstanding the instructions of this schedule.

The Colleges in the North Carolina Community College System and the Department of Natural and Cultural Resources agree that certain records series possess only brief administrative, fiscal, legal, research, and reference value. These records series have been designated by retention periods which allow them to be destroyed when “reference value ends.” The Colleges in the North Carolina Community College System hereby agree that they will establish and enforce internal policies setting minimum retention periods for records with this disposition instruction. Without the establishment of internal policies, the colleges are not authorized by the Department of Natural and Cultural Resources to destroy these records.

The Colleges in the North Carolina Community College System and the Department of Natural and Cultural Resources concur that the long-term and/or permanent preservation of electronic records requires additional commitment and active management by the college. The Colleges in the North Carolina Community College System agree to comply with all policies, standards, and best practices published by the Department of Natural and Cultural Resources regarding the creation and management of electronic records and to make electronic records accessible for the period of time prescribed in this schedule. Where the method of recording information changes (for example, to an electronic system), the retention periods governing the records listed herein still apply, provided the records document the same function. Public records, including electronic records, not listed in this schedule are not authorized to be destroyed.

The Colleges in the North Carolina Community College System agree to destroy, transfer or dispose of records in the manner and the times specified herein. This schedule is to remain in effect until superseded.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

- ✓ According to G.S. § 121-5(b) and G.S. § 132-3, you may only destroy public records with the consent of the Department of Natural and Cultural Resources (DNCR). The State Archives of North Carolina is the division of DNCR charged with administering a records management program. This schedule is the primary way the State Archives of North Carolina gives its consent. Without approving this schedule, your college is obligated to obtain the State Archives of North Carolina's permission to destroy any record, no matter how insignificant.
- ✓ Each records series listed on this schedule has specific disposition instructions that will indicate how long the series must be kept in your office. In some cases, the disposition instructions are simply "Retain in office permanently," which means that those records must be kept in your office forever. In other cases, the retention period may be "destroy in office when reference value ends." A college may have reference copies of materials, meaning "a copy of a record distributed to make recipients aware of the content but not directing the recipient to take any action on the matter" (From Richard Pearce-Moses, A Glossary of Archival and Records Terminology). Your college must establish and enforce internal policies by setting minimum retention periods for the records that the State Archives of North Carolina has scheduled with the disposition instructions, "destroy in office when reference value ends."
- ✓ E-mail is a record as defined by G.S. § 121-5 and G.S. § 132. It is the content of the e-mail that is critical when determining the retention period of a particular e-mail, including attachments, not the media in which the record was created. It is important for all college employees and officials to determine the appropriate records series for specific e-mails and retain them according to the disposition instructions.
- ✓ The State Archives of North Carolina recommends that all college employees and officials view the tutorials that are available online through the State Archives website in order to familiarize themselves with records management principles and practices. The State Archives of North Carolina's online tutorials include topics such as records management, utilizing the retention schedule, e-mail management, and scanning guidelines.

MANAGING PUBLIC RECORDS IN NORTH CAROLINA

Q. What is this “records retention and disposition schedule”?

- A. This document is a tool for the employees of the community colleges across North Carolina to use when managing the records in their offices. It lists records commonly found in college offices and gives an assessment of their value by indicating how long those records should be retained. This schedule is also an agreement between your college and the State Archives of North Carolina.

This schedule serves as the inventory and schedule that the State Archives of North Carolina is directed by G.S. § 121-5(c) and G.S. § 132-8 to provide. It supersedes all previous editions, including all amendments.

Q. Am I required to have all of the records listed on this schedule?

- A. No, this is not a list of records you must have in your office.

Q. What is “reference value”?

- A. Items containing “reference value” in the disposition instructions are generally records that hold limited value, which is typically restricted to those documenting routine operations within the office. A minimum retention period should be established by the office for any items containing the phrase “destroy in office when reference value ends” in the disposition instructions.

Q. Do the sections of this schedule correspond to the organizational structure of my college?

- A. Records series are grouped into sections (i.e. administrative, personnel, etc.) to make it easier for users to locate records and the corresponding disposition instructions. You may find that the groupings reflect the organizational structure of your college, or you may find that records are located in various sections depending on the content of the record. The intent of the schedule’s organization is to provide an easy reference guide for the records created in your college.

Q. What if I cannot find some of my records on this schedule?

- A. Sometimes the records are listed in a different section than how you organize them in your office. Be sure to check the Index and utilize the search function on the PDF version of the schedule to facilitate the location of records series. If you still cannot locate your records on the schedule, contact a Records Management Analyst. We will work with you to amend this records schedule so that you may destroy records appropriately.

Q. What are public records?

- A. The General Statutes of North Carolina, Chapter 132, provides this definition of public records:

“Public record” or “public records” shall mean all documents, papers, letters, maps, books, photographs, films, sound recordings, magnetic or other tapes, electronic data-processing records, artifacts, or other documentary material, regardless of physical form or characteristics, made or received pursuant to law or ordinance in connection with the transaction of public business by any agency of North Carolina government or its subdivisions. Agency of North Carolina government or its subdivisions shall mean and include every public office, public officer or official (State or local, elected or appointed), institution, board, commission, bureau, council, department, authority or other unit of government of the State or of any county, unit, special district or other political subdivision of government.

Q. Is any person allowed to see my records?

A. Yes, except as restricted by specific provisions in state or federal law. G.S. § 132-6 instructs:

“Every custodian of public records shall permit any record in the custodian’s custody to be inspected and examined at reasonable times and under reasonable supervision by any person, and shall, as promptly as possible, furnish copies thereof upon payment of any fees as may be prescribed by law. ... No person requesting to inspect and examine public records, or to obtain copies thereof, shall be required to disclose the purpose or motive for the request.”

Q. What about my confidential records?

A. Not all government records are open to public inspection. Exceptions to the access requirements in G.S. § 132-6 and the definition of public records in G.S. § 132-1 are found throughout the General Statutes. You must be able to cite a specific provision in the General Statutes or federal law when you restrict or deny access to a particular record.

Q. Am I required to make available to the public copies of drafts that have not been approved?

A. Yes, even if a report, permit, or other record has not been finalized, it is still a public record subject to request. Any record that is not confidential by law must be provided when a request is received, whether it is “finished” or not.

Q. What do I do with permanent records?

A. Permanent records should be maintained in the office that created the records, forever.

Q. What is historical value?

A. Historical records document significant events, actions, decisions, conditions, relationships, and similar developments. These records have administrative, legal, fiscal, or evidential importance for the college or its members. Call a Records Management Analyst for further assistance in assessing historical value.

Q. What if I do not have any records?

A. Nearly every position in government generates, receives, or uses records. Computer files of any kind, including drafts and e-mail, are public records. Even if your records are not the official or final version, your records are public records. Not all records have high historical, legal, or fiscal value, but they all must be destroyed in accordance with the provisions of the appropriate records schedule.

Q. May I store our unused records in the basement, attic, shed, etc.?

A. Public records are public property. Though we encourage colleges to find places to store records that do not take up too much valuable office space, the selected space should be dry, secure, and free from pests and mold. Your office must ensure that records stored away from your main office area are well protected from natural and man-made problems while remaining readily available to your staff and the public.

Q. Our old records are stored in the attic, basement, or off-site building, etc. Are we required to provide public access to these records?

A. Yes, as long as the records are not confidential by law. You should also be aware that confidentiality can expire.

Q. Aren't all of our old records at the State Archives of North Carolina?

A. Probably not. The State Archives of North Carolina collects only very specific types of records. Contact a Records Management Analyst for more information about which records can be transferred for storage at the State Records Center.

Q. I found some really old records. What should I do with them?

- A. Call a Records Management Analyst. We will help you examine the records and assess their historical value.

Q. Who can I call with questions?

- A. If you are located west of Statesville, call our Western Office in Asheville at (828) 296-7230 extension 224. If you are east of Statesville, all the way to the coast, call our Raleigh office at (919) 807-7350.

AUDITS, LITIGATION, AND OTHER OFFICIAL ACTION

Q. Why is there an asterisk in the disposition instructions of so many items on this schedule?

A. No record involved in a pending audit, legal, or other official action may be destroyed before that audit or action is resolved.

A legal hold or litigation hold means that records that are the subject of the legal hold or litigation hold must be preserved and thus must not be destroyed until officially released from the hold. A legal hold or litigation hold is placed when either an official discovery order is served on the college, requesting the production of the records in question (for a litigation, regulatory investigation, audit, open records request, etc.), or litigation is pending and the college is thus on notice to preserve all potentially relevant records. You must also ensure that for a claim or litigation that appears to be reasonably foreseeable or anticipated but not yet initiated, any records (in paper or electronic formats) relevant to such a claim or litigation are preserved and not destroyed until released by your General Counsel. The records in question must not be destroyed until the completion of the action and the resolution of all issues that arise from it regardless of the retention period set forth in this schedule.

We have used an asterisk (*) in the disposition instructions to mark records series that are commonly audited, litigated, or may be subject to other official actions. However, any record has this potential. Records custodians are responsible for being aware of potential actions, and for preventing the destruction of any record that is, or may be reasonably expected to become, involved in an audit, legal, or other official action.

Records used during routine audits may be destroyed when the governing body accepts the audit, if the records have completed the retention period listed in this schedule. If time remains in the retention period, the records must be maintained for the remainder of the period. The auditor's working papers must be kept according to the schedule. (See AUDITS (PERFORMANCE) FILE, page 2, item 4, and AUDITS (FINANCIAL) FILE, page 12, item 4.) Should a dispute arise over an audit, the records that were audited should be retained until that dispute is resolved.

The attorney representing the college should inform records custodians when legal matters are concluded and records will no longer be needed. Following the conclusion of any legal action, the records may be destroyed if they have met the retention period in the schedule. Otherwise, they should be kept for the remaining time period.

TRANSITORY RECORDS

Transitory records are defined as “record[s] that [have] little or no documentary or evidential value and that need not be set aside for future use.”¹

According to North Carolina General Statutes § 121 and § 132, “all documents, papers, letters, maps, books, photographs, films, sound recordings, magnetic or other tapes, electronic data processing records, artifacts, or other documentary material, regardless of physical form or characteristic, made or received in connection with the transaction of public business by agency of North Carolina government or its subdivisions” is considered a public record and may not be disposed of, erased, or destroyed without specific approval from the Department of Natural and Cultural Resources.

The Department of Natural and Cultural Resources recognizes that some records may have little or no long-term documentary or evidential value to the creating agency. These records are often called “transitory records.” The following questions and answers discuss types of commonly-created transitory records. They may be disposed of according to the guidance below. However, all public employees should be familiar with this Records Retention and Disposition Schedule and any other applicable guidelines for their office. If any of these documents require a different retention period for these records, follow the longer of the two retention periods. When in doubt about whether a record is transitory, or whether it has special significance or importance, retain the record and seek guidance from a Records Management Analyst.

Q. What do I do with routing slips, fax cover sheets, “while you were out” slips, memory aids, etc.?

- A. Routing slips and transmittal sheets adding no information to that contained in the transmitted material have minimal value after the material has been successfully transmitted. These records may be destroyed or otherwise disposed of after receipt of the material has been confirmed.

Similarly, “while you were out” slips, memory aids, and other records requesting follow-up actions (including voicemails) have minimal value once the official action these records are supporting has been completed and documented. Unless they are listed on this Records Retention and Disposition Schedule, these records may be destroyed or otherwise disposed of once the action has been resolved.

Q. What about research materials, drafts, and other working papers used to create a final, official record?

- A. Drafts and working papers are materials, including notes and calculations, gathered or created to assist in the creation of another record. All drafts and working papers are public records subject to all provisions of General Statute § 132, but many of them have minimal value after the final version of the record has been approved, and may be destroyed after final approval, if they are no longer necessary to support the analysis or conclusions of the official record. Drafts and working documents which may be destroyed after final approval include:

- Drafts and working papers for internal administrative reports, such as daily and monthly activity reports
- Drafts and working papers for internal, non-policy-level documents, such as informal workflows and manuals; and
- Drafts and working papers for presentations, workshops, and other explanations of college policy that are already formally documented.

Working papers supporting certain financial, legal, and other mission-critical functions, however, may continue to have value even after the final, official copy has been approved. To retain these records appropriately, follow the disposition instructions in this Records Retention and Disposition Schedule.

Q. What if I have forms designed and used solely to create, update, or modify records in an electronic medium?

- A. If these records are not required for audit or legal purposes, they may be destroyed in office after completion of data entry and after all verification and quality control procedures. However, if the forms contain any analog components that are necessary to validate the information contained on them (e.g. a signature or notary's seal), they should be retained according to the disposition instructions for the records series encompassing the forms' function.

LEGEND FOR RECORDS SCHEDULE

This records retention and disposition schedule applies to records in all media, unless otherwise specified.

	A symbol designating that one or more records in this series may be confidential or may include confidential information.
Item #	An identifying number assigned to each records series for ease of reference.
Series	“A group of similar records that are . . . related as the result of being created, received, or used in the same activity.” (From Richard Pearce-Moses, A Glossary of Archival and Records Terminology). Series in this schedule are based on common functions in government offices.
Records Series Title	A short identification of the records in a series, based on their common function.
Series Description	A longer description of the records in a series, often including the types of records that can frequently be found in that series. This information is included underneath the Records Series Title.
Disposition Instructions	Instructions dictating the length of time a series must be retained, and how the office should dispose of those records after that time.
Citation	A listing of references to statutes, laws, and codes related to the records series. Citations can include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Authority: governing the creation of records • Confidentiality: limiting access to public records • Retention: setting a retention period

Throughout this schedule, items that cross-reference other items within this schedule are indicated with bold, uppercase letters. If you hover your cursor over one of these items, you will see the hand tool that will enable you to click on the item to follow the link to that location.

DESTRUCTION OF PUBLIC RECORDS

Q. When can I destroy records?

- A. Each records series listed on this schedule has specific disposition instructions that indicate how long the series must be kept in your office. In some cases, the disposition instructions are “Retain in office permanently,” which means that those records must be kept in your office forever.

Q. How do I destroy records?

- A. After your college has approved this records retention and disposition schedule, records should be destroyed in one of the following ways:
- 1) burned, unless prohibited by local ordinance;
 - 2) shredded, or torn so as to destroy the record content of the documents or material concerned;
 - 3) placed in acid vats so as to reduce the paper to pulp and to terminate the existence of the documents or materials concerned;
 - 4) sold as waste paper, provided that the purchaser agrees in writing that the documents or materials concerned will not be resold without pulverizing or shredding the documents so that the information contained within cannot be practicably read or reconstructed.

The provision that electronic records are to be destroyed means that the data, metadata, and physical media are to be overwritten, deleted, and unlinked so that the data and metadata may not be practicably reconstructed.

The data, metadata, and physical media containing confidential records of any format are to be destroyed in such a manner that the information cannot be read or reconstructed under any means.

— N.C. Administrative Code, Title 7, Chapter 4, Subchapter M, Section .0510

Q. How can I destroy records if they are not listed on this schedule?

- A. Contact a Records Management Analyst. The analyst will discuss the nature of the records with you to determine if the records have historical value. If the records do have historical value, they will discuss the possibility of transferring the records to the State Archives of North Carolina to be preserved permanently.

If the records do not have historical value, you may be asked to complete a Request for Disposal of Unscheduled Records form, which the analyst can provide, if the records are no longer being created. If the records are an active records series, the analyst will help you develop an amendment to this schedule so that moving forward you can destroy the records appropriately.

Q. Am I required to tell anyone about the destruction?

- A. We recommend that you report your records retention activities to your governing board on an annual basis. This report does not need to be detailed, but it is important that significant destructions be entered into the minutes of the Board.

ELECTRONIC RECORDS: E-MAIL, BORN-DIGITAL RECORDS, AND DIGITAL IMAGING

Q. When can I delete my e-mail?

A. E-mail is a public record as defined by G.S. § 121-5 and G.S. § 132. Electronic mail is as much a record as any paper record and must be treated in the same manner. It is the content of each message that is important. If a particular message would have been filed as a paper memo, it should still be filed (either in your e-mail program or in your regular directory structure), and it should be retained the same length of time as its paper counterparts. It is inappropriate to destroy e-mail simply because storage limits have been reached. Some examples of e-mail messages that are public records and therefore covered by this policy include:

- Policies or directives;
- Final drafts of reports and recommendations;
- Correspondence and memoranda related to official business;
- Work schedules and assignments;
- Meeting agendas or minutes
- Any document or message that initiates, facilitates, authorizes, or completes a business transaction; and
- Messages that create a precedent, such as issuing instructions and advice.

From the Department of Natural and Cultural Resources E-Mail Policy (Revised July 2009), available at the State Archives of North Carolina website

Other publications (available online at the State Archives of North Carolina website) that will be particularly helpful in managing your e-mail include tutorials on managing e-mail as a public record and on using Microsoft Exchange.

Q. May I print my e-mail to file it?

A. We do not recommend printing e-mail for preservation purposes. Important metadata are lost when e-mail is printed.

Q. I use my personal e-mail account for work. No one can see my personal e-mail, right?

A. The best practice is to avoid using personal resources, including private e-mail accounts, for public business. G.S. § 132-1 states that records “made or received pursuant to law or ordinance in connection with the transaction of public business by any agency of North Carolina government or its subdivisions” are public records (emphasis added). The fact that public records reside in a personal e-mail account is irrelevant.

Q. We have an imaging system. Are we required to keep the paper?

A. You may scan any record, but you will need to ensure that the appropriate documentation is in place in order to destroy paper originals that have been digitized. First, your college must develop an electronic records policy. You can find a template for such a policy in the Digital Imaging section of the State Archives of North Carolina website (<http://archives.ncdcr.gov/For-Government/Digital-Records/Digital-Records-Policies-and-Guidelines#imaging>). Your college will then need to complete an Authorization to Destroy Paper Records form on page 67. Contact a Records Management Analyst for further instructions on how to develop a compliant electronic records policy and to obtain an authorization to destroy paper records.

Permanent records must have a security preservation copy as defined by State Archives of North Carolina’s Human-Readable Preservation Duplicate Policy (G.S. § 132-8.2):

Preservation duplicates shall be durable, accurate, complete and clear, and such duplicates made by a photographic, photo static, microfilm, micro card, miniature photographic, or other process which accurately reproduces and forms a durable medium for so reproducing the original shall have the same force and effect for all purposes as the original record whether the original record is in existence or not. ... Such preservation duplicates shall be preserved in the place and manner of safekeeping prescribed by the Department of Natural and Cultural Resources.

The preservation duplicate of permanent records must be either on paper or microfilm.

Non-permanent records may be retained in any format; however, you will need to take precautions with electronic records that must be retained for more than about 5 years due to the rate at which technology changes. Each time you change computer systems, you will have to convert all records to the new system so that you can assure their preservation and continued access.

Q. Computer storage is cheap. Can I just keep my computer records permanently?

- A. The best practice is to destroy all records that have met their retention requirements, regardless of format.

Q. What are the guidelines regarding the creation and handling of electronic public records?

- A. There are numerous documents available on the State Archives of North Carolina website (<http://archives.ncdcr.gov/For-Government/Digital-Records/Digital-Records-Policies-and-Guidelines>). Topics covered include shared storage, cloud computing, eDiscovery, trustworthy digital public records, digital signatures, e-mail, social media, text messages, websites, digital imaging, metadata, file formats, database indexing, and security backups.

Note that for e-mail, voicemail, text messages, and social media, they should be handled according to their content. Therefore, this schedule does not include a records series that instructs you on how to handle one of these born-digital records by format; instead of focusing on how the information is disseminated, consider what content is contained in the e-mail, text message, voicemail, or social media post. For instance, an e-mail requesting leave that is sent to a supervisor should be kept for 3 years (see LEAVE FILE, page 51, Item 26).

DISASTER ASSISTANCE

Q. What should I do in case of fire or flood?

- A. Secure the area, and keep everyone out until fire or other safety professionals allow entry. Then, call our Raleigh office at (919) 807-7353 for the Head of the Government Records Section or (919) 807-7339 for the State Archivist. If you're in the western part of the state, call our Asheville Office at (828) 296-7230 extension 224. On nights and weekends, call your local emergency management office.

DO NOT ATTEMPT TO MOVE OR CLEAN ANY RECORDS.

Damaged records are extremely fragile and require careful handling. Our staff are trained in preliminary recovery techniques, documenting damage to your records, and authorizing destruction of damaged records. Professional vendors can handle larger disasters.

Q. What help do you give in case of an emergency?

- A. We will do everything we can to visit you at the earliest opportunity in order to provide hands-on assistance. We can assist you in appraising the records that have been damaged so that precious resources (and especially time) are not spent on records with lesser value. We can provide lists of professional recovery vendors that you can contact to preserve your essential and permanent records.

Q. What can I do to prepare for an emergency?

- A. We provide training on disaster preparation that includes a discussion of the roles of proper inventories, staff training, and advance contracts with recovery vendors. If you would like to have this workshop presented, call a Records Management Analyst.

Q. What are essential records?

- A. Essential records are records that are necessary for continuity of operations in the event of a disaster. There are two common categories of records that are considered essential:
- Emergency operating records – including emergency plans and directives, orders of succession, delegations of authority, staffing assignments, selected program records needed to continue the most critical agency operations, as well as related policy or procedural records
 - Legal and financial rights records – these protect the legal and financial rights of the college and of the individuals directly affected by its activities. Examples include accounts receivable records, Social Security records, payroll records, retirement records, and insurance records. These records were formerly defined as “rights-and-interests” records.

Essential records should be stored in safe, secure locations as well as duplicated and stored off-site, if possible.

STAFF TRAINING

Q. What types of workshops or training do you offer?

- A. We have a group of prepared workshops that we can offer at any time at various locations throughout the state. Contact a Records Management Analyst if you are interested in having one of the workshops presented to your college. We will work with you directly to develop training suited to your specific needs. Our basic workshops are:
- Managing public records in North Carolina
 - Confidentiality
 - Organizing paper and digital files
 - E-mail
 - Managing Electronic Records

Q. Will you design a workshop especially for our office?

- A. Yes, we will. Let a Records Management Analyst know what type of training you need.

Q. Are workshops only offered in Raleigh?

- A. No, we will come to your office to present the workshop(s) you need. We have no minimum audience requirement. We will also do presentations for professional associations, regional consortiums, and the public.

Q. Is there a fee for workshops?

- A. Not at this time.

Q. Are the workshops available in an online format?

- A. Not at this time. However, there are several online tutorials available on the State Archives of North Carolina website, including managing public records, e-mail, electronic records, and scanning.

Authorization to Destroy Paper Records

Before a university office may destroy any paper record that has not met its required retention period and keep only a digital surrogate of that record, all of the following conditions must be met:

- The office agrees to abide by all guidelines and best practices as published by the Department of Natural and Cultural Resources, including File Format Guidelines and Best Practices for File-Naming.
- An electronic records policy has been approved by the office and authorized by the Department of Natural and Cultural Resources.
- All records series that will be scanned and their paper records destroyed after quality audits are listed in the table below:

Records Series Title	Required Retention Period

- After all quality control audits have been performed on the electronic records, the destruction of the paper records will be documented on the agency’s destructions log.
- The digital surrogates will be retained for the entirety of the required retention period.
