2016 Passing Rates for Nursing Graduates in
The North Carolina Community College System

Information: The 2016 Passing Rates for the National Council Licensure Examination for Practical Nurses (NCLEX-PN) and the National Council Licensure Examination for Registered Nurses (NCLEX-RN) for the North Carolina Community College System are provided for your information.

Background:

The North Carolina Board of Nursing (NCBON) uses the National Council Licensure Examination (NCLEX®) prepared by National Council of State Boards of Nursing (NCSBN) to measure competence for entry-level practice for graduates of Board-approved nursing education programs. There are two licensure exams, the NCLEX-RN for registered nurses and the NCLEX-PN for practical nurses. After graduation from the nursing program, the student applies to take the NCLEX exam to obtain his or her nursing license from the North Carolina Board of Nursing, which provides an individual with the licensure required to practice nursing.

North Carolina Board of Nursing (NCBON) policy requires the following:

When a program's NCLEX pass rate is below the three year average standard for the first year, a written improvement plan for the program is required for the next calendar year.

When a program's NCLEX pass rate is below the three year average standard for three consecutive years, the program's status is changed to a Public Warning and the program's improvement plan will be posted with the Public Warning.

Currently, all of the thirty-six NC Community College Practical Nursing (D45660) programs and the fifty-five Associate Degree Nursing (A45110) are in Full Approval status with the NCBON

2016 Passing Rates for Nursing Graduates
In the North Carolina Community College System

North Carolina Administrative Code 21 NCAC 36.0320 (e) states: The nursing program shall maintain a three-year average at or above 95% of the national pass rate for licensure level pass rate on first writing of the licensure examination for calendar years ending December 31.

- The National Council Licensure Examination for Practical Nurses (NCLEX-PN) 2014-2016 national pass rate average is 83%.
- The Benchmark = 95% of the National Pass Rate Average; therefore, this year's benchmark is 79%.
- Two of the community college PN program pass rates were below the 79% national three-year average standard. However, none of these programs were below the national three-year average standard for three consecutive years and all are in Full Approval status.

- The National Council Licensure Examination for Registered Nurses (NCLEX-RN) 2014-2016 national pass rate average is 84%.
- The Benchmark = 95% of the National Pass Rate Average; therefore, this year's benchmark is 80%.
- The ADN program pass rates for four community colleges and one consortium were below the 80% national three-year average standard. However, none of these programs were below the national three-year average standard for three consecutive years and all are in Full Approval status.

First time test takers of the NCLEX-RN Boards

The North Carolina Community College System (NCCCS) provides pre-licensure education for the majority of graduates that sit for the NCLEX-RN examination in North Carolina. For example: In 2016, 3,941 nursing graduates in N.C. took the NCLEX-RN for the first time. Of this total, 2,092 (or fifty-three percent) graduated from the NCCCS.

	2012	2013	2014	2015	2016
